

An Associate of Arts (AA) in Criminal Justice is designed to give the student a general knowledge of areas like law enforcement, probation programs, and security.

This degree is a great transition for students who are looking to continue their education with a Bachelor of Arts (BA) or Sciences (BS) in Criminal Justice or similar social science. While in this program, students will not only be given the opportunity to complete their general study courses but also sharpen their ethical decision making, critical thinking, and problem solving skills.

Upon graduation students who wish to continue their education can pursue a BA or BS in Criminal Justice which is also a great launching point for the ambitious student who wishes to go on to law school and earn their Juris Doctor (JD).

Although has many facets of this industry do not immediately require a degree to enter, it can be particularly difficult to be promoted beyond a certain rank without one. For instance, in many U.S. states police officers, parole officers, or prison guards can enter the field with only a high school diploma; yet, it can be difficult to progress beyond sergeant or lieutenant without a college education. This major will prepare you for: An AA in Criminal Justice will prepare the graduate to have effective problem solving and communication skills while using terminology necessary for use in the field. Students should also expect to be proficient in accessing information resources while evaluating them for credibility and importance. These skills will be vital to learn for both the student entering the field upon receiving their AA and students who plan to earn their BA/BS in a related field.

Schools That Offer Associate in Accounting

This program is designed for advanced practice nurses who hold a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree and licensed as a Registered Nurses with at least one year of clinical experience.

Preparing students for professional and personal success is what Berkeley College is all about. From career-focused degree and certificate programs offered in some of today's most in-demand professions to extensive support resources, YOU are at the center of everything we do at Berkeley. Berkeley College offers career-focused programs, supportive professors with real-world industry knowledge, hands-on learning through our internship program, and a variety of supplemental programs and activities.